Global Health Issues, Community Health, Health Eating and the Prophetic Way.

A community health education event exploring the impact on community health of eating what is unwholesome, implications of dietary research and how prophetic wisdom can help communities become healthier.

There will be a showing of extracts from the film called 'Forks over Knives' that examines the claim that most of the degenerative diseases that afflict us can be controlled, or even reversed, by following a diet free of animal-based and processed foods; an overview of some of important community health challenges within Birmingham and the need for a holistic community response and links between contemporary medical research and Prophetic wisdom in the search for a more balanced & healthy way of living. This will be followed by discussion on the issues raised.

Join us as we walk and talk, visiting various places of worship along the way! Beginning in Cardiff Bay and walking through the heart of Butetown, defined by its multicultural and multi-religious past - something which we still celebrate today - we will skirt the city centre and complete our journey in Grangetown. Amongst our brief stops along the way, we will visit several churches, mosques, a Gurdwara, a Hindu Temple, as well as discovering something of the Jewish Community whose houses of worship are now elsewhere in the city but also had a presence here. But, as Robert Louis Stevenson once said, To travel hopefully is a better thing than to arrive - and so the journey together, as we walk and talk, will be the means through which we discover more about one another - and Faithful Cardiff!

Faith in Action

Short description:

Come and find out about the broad range of social welfare and community development projects that are delivered by our faith communities, and the difference it makes to our city.

The event will include contributions from Bishop Richard Jackson, Anglican Bishop of Lewes; Stephen Timms MP, Chair of the APPG on Faith and Society; Archbishop Jerome Lloyd of Selsey, Vice Chair of Brighton and Hove Faith in Action; and Cllr Daniel Yates, Leader of BHCC.

At 3pm, join us for the signing of the City's Faith Covenant.

The Poster for the event explains: The Faith Covenant is a set of principles the City Council and the Faith Community have agreed to in order to work more closely together in the delivery of social welfare and community development projects. Around 50% of the faith community signed the Faith Covenant and it was recently approved at Council Committee with unanimous political support.

Organisation(s) holding the event:

Faith in Lancaster

Short description:

What is the fundamental, empirical base of existence? It seems to me that the idea that consciousness arises from neurons is groundless. Consciousness can't be secondary because it's the thing that you're using to experience and describe things in the first place. And so it seems to me that if your sensory subjective experience is all that you can know for sure, then any field of objective study that assumes an external world will always fall short of explaining it. - Jackson Nexhip.

Time for us to try and get to grips with Consciousness and how our religious teachings understand it. Please come prepared for an unravelling of mysteries and don't forget to bring your own food!

Hope you can join us.

Name of activity: Celebrating Inter Faith Week and Remembrance Sunday - Leeds GB Group

Organisation(s) holding the event:

The Girls' Brigade Leeds Group
Hyde Park Methodist Church

Short description:

Girls' Brigade Leeds Group hosted a truly 'joined up' Act of Remembrance. Displays of cascading poppies provided the background to a service attended by regular members of the Methodist Congregation, the local Boys' Brigade and Girls' Brigade groups, the congregation of nearby All Hallows Anglican Church, members of the Scout group from The Leeds Grand Mosque and members of the Scouts from the Jewish community.

Just before 11am, we watched a video produced by 'Lifewords with HOPE UK' and the chimes of Big Ben counted us down to the 2-minute silence, shared together in mutual respect. The silhouette of the 'There but not there' figure sat alongside a 10-year-old young girl from GB, a symbol of our joint prayers for a more peaceful future for all.'

Stones of peace made by local children were distributed and placed along the roadside from the Methodist Church to The Leeds Grand Mosque as we walked there together to hear about the Muslim involvement in the war and to share refreshments.

Organisation(s) holding the event:

Liverpool Guild of Students

Short description:

Debate is an important part of student and political life. However, often we focus too much on winning the argument, committing to our own point of view.

Instead let's try a dialogue, where the atmosphere is more exploratory, participants can express uncertainties as well as deeply held beliefs, and participants are encouraged to listen, understand and gain insight.

The session will explore 3 different dialogue techniques that can be used when facilitating difficult discussions. We'll be using controversial topics such as faith and sexuality, women's rights and terrorism to explore how dialogue can be effective when having these difficult discussions.

Come along and find out why dialogue, not debate, is important in having difficult discussions.

Short description:

We will be running some interactive sessions aimed at young people during Inter Faith Week. The project aims to promote living values through expressive art allowing young people to lead discussions and make art using living values as a theme.

Young people will have the opportunity to see religious art using digital technology and the intended outcome is that each person leaves with a work of art that has been influenced by their participation, as well as a broader understanding of how this affects our world. We hope to continue after the week getting the young people to showcase and talk about this experience in their own faith communities. This project aims to attract all faiths in the local area.

In order to increase the focus on removing barriers of communication where people can, without being afraid, to talk about religion, the Multi-Faith Network is taking part in Inter Faith celebrations across the UK. We believe that Interfaith Dialogue expands communication; increasing our understanding and respect for other religious beliefs, institutions and values. Good dialogue with people of faith enhances our sensitivity to them and makes them more comfortable bringing their whole-selves to work.

Let's remove these barriers, challenge what doesn't add value, improve collaboration and celebrate Interfaith Week. There are a lot of sessions planned across the UK and the entire leadership team of the Multi-Faith Network in collaboration with Railway Mission and Inter Faith is looking forward to your participation.

The Sustainable Communities Programme (SusCom) of Initiatives of Change UK and International Centre for Eritrean Refugees and Asylum Seekers (ICERAS) are hosting an evening in celebration of Inter Faith Week.

We will hear an inter-generational perspective from many faiths as the speakers share their personal experiences with the forces that unite and divide us through our faiths and our humanity. We will explore how this unity responds to the global crises of today and how our faiths help to respond to volatile times. This event will give young and older people the opportunity to represent their faiths, celebrate diversity, and share our common humanity in various ways - there will be music, poetry, food, and much more. It will highlight the fantastic work done by local inter faith groups, which enable interaction and sharing between people of different faith backgrounds across the UK.

Faiths Forum for London

Short description:

As part of an ongoing programme, Faith Forum for London partnered with Twitter to provide coding workshops for girls aged between 11-13 years old from different faith schools. The workshops are designed to inspire young girls and to encourage them to pursue a career in technology, and the course was created and taught by female Twitter engineers.

Not only are these classes intended to help young girls with their future careers, they also bring people together from different backgrounds to increase understanding and cooperation between them.

So far this initiative has helped to train over 250 students, all working together through the universal language of coding. But more than just coding, we have helped bring these students from different faiths together and created a shared experience that now unites all of them.

These events, led by Arsenal in the Community staff, took place at both Emirates Stadium and London Colney and formed part of the UK-wide Inter Faith Week initiative.

For the two-day event at Emirates Stadium we brought together Year 11 pupils from Hasmorean Jewish School with East Barnet School pupils from other faith backgrounds.

This event started at the Hub where mixed groups of pupils worked together to research and plan presentations about different religious festivals, before playing a football match together.

They were then joined by primary school pupils from Danegrove and Rosh Pinner schools on day two, to whom they delivered their presentations about different religious festivals.

All the pupils then enjoyed a free tour of Emirates Stadium together.

Name of activity: The Importance of Faith in a Secular Society

Organisation(s) holding the event:

Muslim Council of Britain

Short description:

A panel discussion on the importance of faith, faith communities and organisations in a growing secular society.

Discussions surrounding faith in the UK show that there is much confusion over the current status of Britain and its relationship with faith. Whilst many would argue that Britain has become more secular, it is also clear that faith communities and organisations are more involved than before in social projects, helping some of the most vulnerable people within society.

Join us for an interesting discussion which will not only discuss whether Britain is a 'secular' nation, but also to explore the various ways the Christian, Muslim and Jewish community are working independently and together in playing a pivotal role in shaping society.

Speakers will include individuals from different faith groups and organisations who will provide an insight into the work they are currently doing in Britain and why it is significant.

We're very pleased that the following speakers will be joining us for the discussion on the importance of faith in a 'secular' society:

Shafiur Rahman, East London Mosque and London Muslim Centre

Laura Marks, Founder of Mitzvah Day,

Iqbal Nasim, CEO of National Zakat Foundation,

Organisation(s) holding the event:
Manchester Cathedral

Short description:

Manchester Cathedral is proud to be part of Battle's Over - commemorating 100 years since the end of WWI. A nationwide Day of Commemorative Events marking the Centenary of the end of the First World War and paying tribute to the millions killed or wounded in battle, and those on the home front who struggled amidst pain and loss to help ensure freedom survived.

Organised by Pageantmaster Bruno Peek LVO OBE OPR, Battle's Over takes place on November 11 2018, with events throughout the United Kingdom, Channel Islands, the Isle of Man.

It begins at 6am with over 1,000 lone pipers playing Battle's O'er, a traditional Scottish air played after a battle, outside cathedrals and other individual locations throughout the country and overseas, following which a specially written tribute will be read out.

At 6.55pm buglers will sound the Last Post at more than 1,000 locations, where at 7pm WW1 Beacons of Light will be lit in a tribute signifying the light of peace that emerged from the darkness of four years of war. The bells will ring at 7.05pm.

Organisation(s) holding the event:

Manchester Indian Association

Soka Gakkai International (SGI UK)

Short description:

SGI-UK are delighted to have the opportunity to show the Gandhi King Ikeda Peacebuilders Exhibition at Gandhi Hall.

The inspiration behind the exhibition was the founding of the Gandhi King Ikeda Community Builder's Prize in 2001 by the Martin Luther King Jr International Chapel and the Gandhi Centre for Reconciliation at Morehouse College, Atlanta, Georgia, USA.

Since 2004 the exhibition has been shown at over 100 locations worldwide.

The purpose of the exhibition is to highlight the examples of 3 people - Mahatma Gandhi, Martin Luther King Jr and Daisaku Ikeda (President of the lay Buddhist organisation, Soka Gakkai International, a worldwide society for the creation of value founded upon the Buddhism of Nichiren Daishonin) each of whom, based on the principles of their own faith traditions, has significantly advanced the cause of peace and of establishing human dignity.

The exhibition is about communicating a message of hope and how ordinary people can make a real difference and help to create a peaceful world.

We begin with a presentation introducing the theme, including audio-visual material relating to the Armistice. Individuals then have an opportunity to represent the position of their faith concerning war and peace and participate in discussion with the group. Questions which may be addressed include: Is it appropriate to remember the sacrifice of those killed in war? Is war ever justified? Is killing ever justified? Are conscientious objectors to be applauded or censured? If by our inaction we allow one person to kill another, are we culpable? What practical ways can people of faith encourage peace and influence society?

Turning Prayer into Acts of Loving Justice with Lama Rod Owens

As Professor Cornel West has advised, 'Never forget that justice is what love looks like in public.' People of faith as well as believers in virtue must be on the front lines of justice embodying an ethic of love that translates into disrupting violence, caring of the oppressed, and speaking truth into the darkness of hate and ignorance. We must embrace our fear and see it as a teacher helping us move deeper into compassion for ourselves and others around us.

We are inviting people of all faiths to join Buddhist and social activist, Lama Rod Owens, who takes time out of his U.K teaching tour, for a discussion on this highly relevant topic for our times, and an exploration of their response in relation to their faith beliefs. Co-Hosted by Southsea Sangha and Portsmouth City Council.

In the week leading up to the centenary of the end of the Great War, the monthly meeting is devoted to the 11th hour on the 11th day of the 11th month. This is also the start of Inter Faith Week 2018. The regular 'first Tuesday' get together shall discuss the coming Sunday's armistice remembrance.

The group was set up with the agenda of peace, and with respectful dialogue among peoples of faith and no faith, we hope we may achieve this. In order to help get to know others, this evening will involve people presenting a belief not of their own, in an attempt to understand more. All are welcome.

Chelmsford's Light Parade ends this armistice day of remembrance.
