Manchester Academy

Short description of event:

To celebrate Inter Faith Week, we have had KS3 students take part in Q&A sessions with six different members of faith. One of which is our governor and another is a parent of a child in the school. Pupils had the chance to answer all the burning questions they have always had. Students had many questions to ask and each morning we ran out of time!

KS4 students have had the privilege of having the speakers in their lessons for a more in depth session. The theme for the week is 'what's the point in being good?'. To emphasise this, KS3 students have been encouraged to take part in 'Random Acts of Kindness' where they do acts of kindness for staff, students and at home. They then report this to their form tutors and report it on their kindness trees. The form with the most bloomed tree will win a prize per year group. Compliment slips have been left around the building for staff and students to leave for each other and this has certainly put smiles on many faces!

Organisation(s) holding the event:

Uffculme School Religious Education Department

Short description of event:

Each year, pupils from Uffculme School in Devon are invited to take part in an Inter-Faith Week quiz about various religions in Britain today. The quiz is only open to current pupils of the school. Uffculme School is a rural academy school of around 1000 pupils, and despite a catchment area of around 100 square miles, there is little diversity in terms of faith and race. Mr Maddicks, Acting Head of the Religious Education Department, runs the annual competition during Inter-Faith Week for a dual purpose: it forms part of the inter-house programme where pupils compete in sports, the arts and other areas to gain points for their House, but more importantly, the quiz supports the general work of the RE Department in promoting knowledge, understanding, respect and tolerance for all groups in society.

Embrace Natural Healing

Short description of event:

As Spiritual Healers we accept the existence of a divine guiding universal energy and we also accept that in every human being there is an element of that divine energy. The energy healing we do is not faith reliant and is available to be experienced by those who come to our centre. As recognised AUHS registered Healers we view our work as a natural and purposeful energy based process which from mostly anecdotal evidence is believed to help relieve everyday stress provide a sense of physical and emotional revitalisation and on some occasions bring about a deep sense of peace. As part of Inter Faith Week we would like to raise awareness that whatever personal/religious beliefs are held you are welcome to visit us and talk to us about the work we do and experience the universal energy.

Organisation(s) holding the event:

London Boroughs Faiths Network

Short description of event:

With endorsement from the Mayor of London, Sadiq Khan, as part of his #LondonIsOpen campaign, we have made a short video to share the message that London is Open for faith, cultural and religious difference. The new film was shot on location across the capital - London's temples, Islamic centres, gurdwaras, synagogues, meeting houses and churches open their doors. We hope the film will be a catalyst for conversation amongst us, as well as a strong signal to Londoners, including those who may be surprised by this message. "Never has it been more important to open up the rivers of words, ideas, knowledge and beauty that have criss-crossed for centuries between the notional East and West . . . As the skies darken, some hope the arts can make the hard lines dissolve." Alibhai-Brown (2006) Filmed by Rosalind Parker and Jack Jeffreys. Inter Faith Week participants are welcome to show the film and share it on social media. You can view the film at https://youtu.be/bExx8ZzfAnw Screening of the short film, followed by light refreshments and discussion.

The University of Portsmouth
The University of Portsmouth Chaplaincy

Short description of event:

This event is a multi-faith and multicultural celebration event for staff and students of the University of Portsmouth organised in collaboration with University of Portsmouth Students' Union and the student faith societies. The event gives members of the various faith societies the opportunity to meet each other and members of the University community to answer questions about their faith and build relationships across faiths and cultures. As part of the afternoon attendees are given the opportunity to paint glasses (glass paints and some glasses are supplied but attendees are encouraged to bring their own cleaned glass containers/jars) to use as candle holders at home - a reminder to be light in the darkness and to remind them of the conversations had and relationships built at the interfaith event. Attendees are also given a quiz with questions from each faith represented and the best quiz answers win a small prize. The event finishes with a professional storyteller who entertains the attendees with a range of folk stories (not faith specific) about light and dark and about hope and good. This will be the event's 5th year and each year has been a resounding success with good relationships built between different faith societies - sometimes resulting in different faith societies arranging collaborative events.

Short description of event:

James Redfords documentary Paper Tigers chronicles a year in the life of Lincoln High School in the community of Walla Walla, Washington, USA. Pupils who attend the school have a history of behavioural problems. After the schools Head comes across new scientific research about Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs), he decides to radically change the schools approach. The dramatic results turn Lincoln High School into a standard-bearer for care of young people. This film follows the transformation of students as they grapple with their traumatic pasts. This educational screening of Paper Tigers is presented by the CoED Foundation. Programmed during National Inter-Faith Week, this event seeks to connect local communities who work with young people and would like to know more about research into ACE. An educational version of the film will be shown with a post-screening panel discussion and an audience Q&A afterwards.

The Dialogue Society

Short description of event:

The Dialogue Society and the Light House Educational Society are pleased to announce a three-session course entitled 'Dialogue in Islam' which explores the theological and historical justification for dialogue in Islam. Accessible to Muslims and Non-Muslims, the course content is interactive and follows a question and answer format. The course demonstrates the case for interfaith and intercultural dialogue in Islam through reference to scripture, Sunnah and Islamic interpretive methodology. It directly addresses elements of Islamic sources and traditional interpretation which are sometimes taken as contradicting the case for dialogue and even exploited by violent extremists.

Stonewall

GALOP

Community Security Trust

Short description of event:

For far too long, people within communities as well as organisations have worked tirelessly to challenge hatred, intolerance and prejudice without any national recognition. We believe that this has to change and this is why we have partnered with the Community Security Trust, GALOP, Stonewall, the 'No To Hate' Campaign and Stop Hate UK. Collectively, we can make a difference in protecting the dignity and the integrity of victims of hate incidents and hate crime. The theme of the 2016 Annual National Hate Crime Awards is UpstandersNotBystanders, and with the number of hate-crimes increasing across the UK and substantially post-Brexit, it is now more important than ever to celebrate, recognise and honour the people who have worked tirelessly to tackle hate crime nationally. They have also helped, with our police services, to make our country more safer.

Name of Event: How can we respond to faith and community challenges around Brexit?

Organisation(s) holding the event:

Islington Faiths Forum

Short description of event:

The EU Referendum result at the end of June 2016 has brought a number of surprises not least the rise in negative sentiment towards people perceived to be from outside the UK including those from the EU. In July this year there was a noticeable spike in reported racist and religious hate crime in Islington (official data shows). Anecdotally people from diverse backgrounds in Islington have confirmed this within a mixed cloud of anger and resignation. Our sense of community in Islington our cohesion is under threat and so we would like to meet this head on unpick it and discuss how we can respond to faith and community challenges collectively around Brexit. At 6pm on Thursday 17th November 2016 at the Council Chamber Islington Town Hall on Upper Street N1 we will be doing just that through a lecture and debate discussing these challenges with representatives from different community groups affected and seeking a way forward. This event will start with short talks by: Alex Podhorodecka Polish Catholic Church of Our Lady of Czestochowa Colin Adams Chair - Islington Hate Crime Forum Cllr Richard Watts Leader of Islington Council Dr Omer El-Hamdoon President - Muslim Association of Britain Merium Bhuiyan Holloway Education and Cultural Centre A Question Time Panel with the above speakers and the IFF Chair will then follow. Metropolitan Cathedral Liverpool

The Chaplaincy Edge Hill University Ormskirk

Princes Road Synagogue Liverpool

Abdullah Quilliam Mosque Liverpool

Short description of event:

The Chaplaincy at Edge Hill University Ormskirk is arranging a visit to three important places of worship in Liverpool. On 18 November a party of around 60 students and staff will visit the Metropolitan Cathedral the Princes Road Synagogue and the Abdullah Quilliam Mosque. The aim is to give our aspiring teachers an insight into the three Abrahamic religions of Christianity Judaism and Islam. The visit also aims to encourage an appreciation of the religious and historical significance of these fine architectural buildings. Liverpool Metropolitan Cathedral officially known as the Metropolitan Cathedral of Christ the King is the seat of the Archbishop of Liverpool. The cathedral's architect Frederick Gibberd was the winner of a worldwide design competition. Construction began in 1962 and was completed in 1967. It is a Grade II listed building. Princes Road Synagogue is the home of the Liverpool Old Hebrew Congregation. It was founded in the late 1860s and designed by William James Audsley and George Ashdown Audsley. It is widely regarded as the finest example of the Moorish Revival style of synagogue architecture in Great Britain. It is a Grade I listed building. The Abdullah Quilliam Mosque originally established as the Liverpool Muslim Institute in 1889 was England's first mosque. William Quilliam was brought up a Methodist but converted to Islam after visiting Morocco. He had earlier learned about Islam while visiting southern France in 1882 and crossing over to Algeria and Tunisia. It is a Grade II listed building.

The CoED Foundation

Short description of event:

James Redford's documentary Paper Tigers chronicles a year in the life of Lincoln High School in the community of Walla Walla, Washington, USA. Pupils who attend the school have a history of behavioural problems. After the school's Head comes across new scientific research about Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs), he decides to radically change the school's approach. The dramatic results turn Lincoln High School into a standard-bearer for care of young people. This film follows the transformation of students as they grapple with their traumatic pasts. This educational screening of Paper Tigers is presented by the CoED Foundation. Programmed during National Inter-Faith Week, this event seeks to connect local communities who work with young people and would like to know more about research into ACE. An educational version of the film will be shown with a post-screening panel discussion and an audience Q&A afterwards.

Name of Event: Walk of Witness in Solidarity with Refugees

Organisation(s) holding the event:

Diocese of Exeter
Roman Catholic Diocese of Plymouth
Devon Faith and Belief Forum

Short description of event:

Forced out by war poverty or persecution millions of people live uncertain lives as migrants and refugees. But each of us moved by faith can act in welcome respect and love. So far this year hundreds of thousands of people have been displaced and are making perilous journeys in search of shelter. UNHCR says over 3 000 people have drowned in the Mediterranean trying to get to safety in Europe in the first 6 months of 2016. This is 1 000 more than in the same months of 2015. This is why CAFOD the Catholic Diocese of Plymouth the Anglican Diocese of Exeter with Devon Faith and Belief Forum and others are organising a walk of witness in solidarity with people who have been forced to become refugees because of war climate change exploitation and persecution. Pope Francis calls us to see and then enable others to see that migrants and refugees are brothers and sisters to be welcomed respected and loved". The walk of witness will be led by the South West's own 'Lampedusa Cross' which is made from salvaged pieces of boats wrecked off the coast of the Italian island of Lampedusa where many refugees have drowned making their way to Europe. The walk will be a memorial for those who have perished and an act of solidarity with those who are searching for a new life of safety. The main rally will take place in Plymouth City Centre Piazza and this will be followed by a walk of witness to Plymouth Roman Catholic cathedral ending with a short service. The event is open to all."

Organisation(s) holding the event:

ITV Wales
NUJ Training Wales

Short description of event:

This event is organised by the training arm of the National Union of Journalists in Wales. It is aimed at journalists and media reps of faith communities and related secular forums and is also open to those interested in the relation between journalism and belief. Religion is a key element in many top stories. How well-equipped are journalists to grasp and interpret the powerful impetus of religion in our world. An informed understanding of how religion shapes lives politics and conflict today at home and abroad – religious literacy – is now an essential for the journalist. The key to a strong story and the difference between a ‘one-off’ and a lasting network of contacts is the ability to ‘get’ such complex things as clashes between religious secular and national values anti-Semitism Middle- Eastern politics militant religion the religious and cultural drivers of social practices and the distinction between religion and ethnicity. This day-long workshop – the first of its kind in Wales – opens up religious literacy by offering expertise resources and a chance to interrogate your personal standpoint and troubleshoot professional practice. Open to the range of faith communities in Wales it offers excellent networking. Resource list of media reps and Guide to Faith in Wales provided. Lunch included. The event will be chaired by Roger Bolton. We would like to thank ITV Wales for supporting this event by providing the venue: The Life Sciences Hub in Cardiff Bay. Organisation(s) holding the event:

Council of Christians and Jews - Staines Branch

Short description of event:

How an objection to the national Quaker position on Boycott Divestment and Sanctions evolved into a five-year dialogue. Three people who have been involved in the Kingston Quaker-Jewish Dialogue Group will share their experience. This group came together in spring 2011 when Kingston Jews approached Kingston Quakers, concerned that the national representative body of British Quakers was recommending the boycott of West Bank Israeli settlement goods. Since then the group has met nearly forty times and in spring 2013 undertook a joint visit to Israel-Palestine. This presentation at Staines will not discuss the overseas conflict that brought the group together; rather, it will share the experience of dialogue itself.

Name of Event: Science and Religion: Exploring the Spectrum

Organisation(s) holding the event:

British Science Association - Bristol and Bath Branch

Short description of event:

Why does the clash between science and religion persist in society and the media? This panel discussion is part of a partnership between the BSA and the Science and Religion: Exploring the Spectrum (SRES) project based at Newman University in Birmingham. The project seeks to build an understanding of the social and cultural contexts of public perceptions of the relationship between science and religion across all faiths and none. Surprisingly, although the relationship between science and religion is often talked about in the media by public intellectuals and in public space, very little research has been done that explores what people actually think about their own or others views on the relationship between science and religion or by extension rationality reason and faith. The Panel includes: Emma Preece (Chair), Alexander Hall, Amy Unsworth, Eric Albone and the Revd Stig Graham.

Oxford Brookes University Multifaith Chaplaincy

Short description of event:

In the last decade alongside increasing global instability the movement of people around the globe fleeing war and persecution has become a major issue in the UK. How we respond to refugees and asylum seekers is a matter that requires deep reflection at every level. Inderjit Singh Bhogal has spent his career working on reconciliation race and social justice. Inderjit is a Christian theologian and Methodist minister who was born to a Sikh family and emigrated from Nairobi as a young man. His unique perspective gives great insight into how we can respond to the situation in the UK and worldwide today. He is founder and President of City of Sanctuary a former President of the Methodist Conference and former Leader of the Corrymeela Community which works towards reconciliation in Northern Ireland. He has founded inter faith initiatives in Wolverhampton and Sheffield. He has served as a member of the Home Office Race Equality Advisory Panel. He received his MA from Westminster College and was made Hon. Doctor of the University by Oxford Brookes University in 2001.

Organisation(s) holding the event:

Ahmadiyya Muslim Association Cardiff Chapter

Short description of event:

The Ahmadiyya Muslim Association, Cardiff warmly invites you to an Interfaith Peace Symposium followed by luncheon on 26th Nov 2016 at County Hall Cardiff Bay Cardiff. Various Faith Leaders, Councillors and Social Community Leaders will be attending this event. The objective of this event is to promote peace. The horrific actions of extremists who conduct their brutality in the name of Islam have led many to question whether Islam advocates terrorism and violence. The truth, however, is that there is no justification in Islam for any form of extremism. Cardiff has unfortunately been a victim of radicalisation in the recent past. There is a dire need to raise awareness about the true Islamic teachings about the importance of peace and harmony in society.
